

Our Services

We offer a Free 1-hour H&S Management Checkup, thereafter our Services come under the headings of our 'PERFORM' or our 'SELF-SELECT' services.

PERFORM H&S Service is our full consultancy arrangement in which we become your legally required 'Competent Person' for the length of the contract (the Management of Health and Safety At Work Regulations require businesses to have access to competent advice on health and safety).

The PERFORM service has many benefits including:

- We will help you draft your Company Safety Policy
- Regular visits from us will keep things on track
- You will have access throughout the year to a phone and email advisory service
- Free training courses and individual coaching are included
- Access to our PERFORM H&S Management System.

SELF-SELECT Services are literally that - you select from our range of services for a one-off cost. All of these services rely on you having already set up some good systems that will be referred to during the delivery of the particular service.

H&S Training

We can offer you various pre-designed training courses such as 'Health and Safety Briefing for Managers' 'Employee Health and Safety Awareness' 'Manual Handling Awareness' and 'Noise at Work Awareness'. Or, if you have a particular training need in mind we can usually design and deliver it ourselves, or would be happy to refer you to another training organisation.

Coaching

Sometimes not everyone thrives in a 'classroom' setting. Coaching can be a great way to lead one or two people into applying a skill such as carrying out a risk assessment in a sensible way. Left to their own devices following large group training, many people flounder. By using one-to-one coaching, we can get them on the right track.

Policy Review

Many businesses are beginning to realise that having a good H&S Policy not only benefits their staff, but also becomes a vital part of projecting a good image to their customers and business partners. Our Policy Review is more than just looking at the paperwork, for example we will check your staff for awareness of its application within your workplace and report back to you.

Auditing

We are British Standards Institute trained auditors and can check that the standards you have laid out in your Policy and Procedures are being applied throughout your Company.
